

Welcome Party

As the end of the year is coming, the train of our beloved University (Brest State Technical University) keeps on driving along in celebrations. The faculty of Pre-University training is not left out as a programme titled 'давайте познакомимся' which means 'lets introduce ourselves' was organized for different foreign students to get to really know each other and get mixed-up in the very friendly 'student's life' of our University.

The event featured slide shows of the countries of the various foreign students of the faculty.

First to perform after the introductory speech made by one of the lecturers of the faculty Valueva Tatiana, who also acted as the host of the event, was Ibubeleye Wokoma from Nigeria who has been studying in the faculty for only five months. He gave the audience a slight history and culture of Nigeria using the Russian language and also showed some historic people and places of Nigeria.

After Wokoma's presentation the turn of Yin Hang of China came, who has been studying Russian Language in the faculty for just three months. He talked about his country, where the city is located and showed some photos of the cities of China and their historic places.

Then came another student from China Wu Yinfei who sang an Italian song.

Nigerian trio Stanley Onukaogu, Dennis Aigbirior and Ibubeleye Wokoma also came and performed a popular Nigeria song titled "Street Credibility". The song was rendered in English.

Next was Eziz from Turkmenistan, who also talked about his country and after that a third year student of China showed some pictures of the capital city of China Beijing.

There was also live performance by a Belarusian singer who thrilled the crowd with a popular demand.

The most interesting part of the evening was the game session which got every one excited and laughing, winning different prizes.

Yes, everybody who took part in the games had gifts.

The Dean of the faculty of Pre-university training Tatiana Leonidovna Kushner was so thrilled as she appreciated the efforts of the lecturers and students of our faculty in her vote of thanks for putting up such a wonderful and classic event.

It is actually a tradition in our University to organize events like this every year for international freshmen.
